Yearbook Advisor

Ms. Tarum (teacher) says she loves her students' "willingness to help and this year's book is turning out to be fantastic, I am very proud of the staff this year." One of her favorite things about being the yearbook teacher is that "yearbook is a class I got to pick who's in it, from a teachers stand point that's a good thing." She says the job is stressful, especially at deadlines, but other than that she loves being the yearbook teacher and never wants to give it up. "I intend on continuing to be the yearbook teacher forever."

ALL ABOUT CAMERAS!

Katie Hicks (7), was photographing the Cockrill Cowgirls volleyball game. She says that she "Enjoys taking pictures, so it was fun to me." At this particular angle, she was using the referee stand to frame the players in the photograph.

Your yearbook staff works hard every year to bring you your yearbook.

Most of the staff is new, but some have come back for another year of fun and hardwork! These people are Molly Kolb (8), Noelle Facio (8), Jordan Douglas (8), Lindsay O'Connell (8) and Logan Denmon (8), all editors for this year's book. They each have their separate reasons for coming back. Molly she says she came back because, "Its fun and I like the people." Noelle came back because, "It was a lot of fun last year and I wanted to come back." Our yearbook staff come back for different reasons. But even if those reasons are all different, there is still something in common, they all want to bring you a book full of memories to last forever.
