- Ellen Von Unwerth
- 1954 in Frankfurt, Germany
- Still alive

How She Got Into Photography

- After graduating she became an assistant at a magic show not long after that she joined the circus. She started to take pictures of things around her. This is where she learned how great she is at photography.

How influenced-by others in field of photography

- She was influenced by famous photographers taking photos of her in modeling career.

Typical subject matter of photographs made by this artist

- Magazines, Movies, and Music

What this artist is trying/ tried to communicate

- She remembers what the model is going through when she is taking pictures and tries to bring playfulness and sexuality to her photos.

Typical Style Of Work

- The main style of work is modeling such as Vanity Fair, The Face, Vogue

Geographic places this photographer shot

- Italy, Paris, Europe, and Romania.

What they themselves said/say about their work

- Technique undoubtedly helps make photography magical, but I prefer to work with atmosphere. I think that the obsession with technique is a male thing. Boy's toys. They love playing... but once you've perfected something you have to start searching for a new toy. I would rather search for a new model or location. - Ellen von Unwerth

My opinion on Ellen Von Unwerth

- She puts a lot of dedication and inspiration into her work. She came from modeling herself and that helped improve her photos.
